

An Introduction To...

LIVE SOUND ENGINEERING

Are you an aspiring sound engineer or musician who wants to get a better sound at your gigs?

As part of the Ffordd Sain Project, Community Music Wales and Tŷ Siamas have teamed up to offer a practical workshop that offers a basic introduction to the world of live sound engineering.

It will cover types of microphones and placement, basic parts of a PA, how to use a mixing desk and EQ, while working with musicians in actual soundcheck situations.

This workshop is suitable for complete beginners or for those who have gaps in their understanding of live sound.

This workshop is free of charge, but places are limited. To register please contact ywainmyfyr@btinternet.com
